Myself and Carla had a mutual misunderstanding last year, regardless of what you or Ciara Henneghan say we are far more crucial and central to Galway than a guy from Australia and wherever the cruel ableist Ciara is from.

I just got refused coffee and received instead another snarky smirk from Ciara who said 'oh not today you won't be served today' with no reason given. I've been a customer for far longer than she has worked there.

I don't think you fully realise your right to refuse service as a café in Galway JP, no offence. I've known your wife far longer than I've known Ciara, I taught near the primary school of your child. I'm fully Garda vetted.

Ciara said you wanted to speak to me. I won't be speaking to you alone because you're as sexist as her assuming my guilt AGAIN. I've done nothing wrong and you're assuming that Ciara is telling the truth. this is the second time you have mishandled an official complaint why are you protecting the malicious worker at my expense? I'm not just Andy customer I am a qualified and registered teacher. I am legally obliged to defend my reputation every single customer at that café at that moment thought that I was some obnoxious predator who can't get coffee because the female barista said oh no, no no not today that is disgusting. I advised you in advance of my complaint against her she should've been taking off the roster immediately you still leave her as a public facing face for your company. You do yourself a disservice. I have nothing against her as a person or her gender before you pay that card she is malicious absolutely malicious. She mocked me when I disclose my invisible disability and she mocked me when I disclose that my grandmother was dying, she purposefully badmouth my brother Rhys your previous employee behind his back that's not the kind of person that you should have employed, but especially not in this City.

I want to meet with you and your wife, seeing as you want to meet with me apparently.

I want to speak with Íde personally about the slander that has been done to me by Ciara and what I heard her say about my younger brother Rhys the Deacy family name is rather important in Galway sir and I have my British passport now so Mr Commonwealth Australian citizen I could have you deported and brought for a civil case in Aistrialia and personally give full ownership to your wife.

Don't test my patience please your café does a good service for Galway and now I've just been refused coffee with a smirk on her face further damaging my teaching reputation in that café because everyone else is wondering what the fuck did Cian do to get not served today?

I already emailed you with a compromise. Your CBD herb is perfectly legal in Ireland. That doesn't mean that's the only reason you could be shut down. You wouldn't be able to afford the civil suit. I want an apology or you will be shut down and I want Ciara removed she's a horrible horrible person who has mocked my complex PTSD and physical disabilities and she lied to me and based on what I've just seen her there communicate with Carla she lies for a living and probably about Rhys too.

Carla should get her pay and be the full manager. That's not me me being infatuated. I'm a bisexual virgin and I've sworn off women after the murual misunderstanding me and Carla had last year that has slandered me as some kind of predator. Not her fault and mot mine.

Either way this is the second official complaint you've received at your café and you've fucked up both of them.

Ciara said you wanted to talk to me and I won't be served until I do. I'm moving to Belfast for the summer soon, free at your Dublin branch?

I want to talk to you and your wife or you're done, I'm not some random expendable customer your gaslighting is TORTUROUS.

you must respect mine and my brother Rhys's heritage at your café under the equal status act or you will be removed. Mill Street would love if you got a charge like that against you so why don't you treat me with respect? I deserve am certainly not pro Mill Street the laziest most corrupt guard station of the country but that barista of yours is vindictive. Absolutely vindictive and you have her on the front of your shop. I know you don't know anything about DC's fruit and veg cooks corner, but I know a thing or two about businesses of Galway.

my brother is abusive as fuck and I'm taking him to court in September my older brother in the interim my grandmother is at risk and she's not getting any healthier. I don't need this shit after all the money I've spent at your café we could be very good allies in fact I could help you win all your fucking legal cases. What the fuck is your issue with me? And how many lies have you been spreading? I want to know in fact you're legally obliged to tell me.

None of this is verbal abuse. How do you read? Written text is your prerogative
