

Dear Sir/Madam,

Cian MacLiatháin is a final year student on the Bachelor of Mathematics and Education programme in NUI Galway. In the time that I have known Cian, he has proved to be a very conscientious and hardworking student. I have watched Cian grow into a passionate, knowledgeable and caring teacher who has demonstrated a high level of academic achievement. Cian's teaching abilities combined with his strong teamwork skills, interpersonal and communication skills and work ethic have demonstrated his capacity to be an excellent student who progressed to become an excellent teacher.

Cian's final year research project focused on the use of technology in the mathematics classroom to support constructivist teaching and learning. This research project explicitly shows Cian's ability to excel in his academic capabilities. Cian demonstrated a high level of statistical analysis, some of which in my experience, I have only seen in PhD research.

I have every confidence in Cian's academic, professional and personal qualities and abilities and have no doubt he would be an asset to any programme.

Kind Regards,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads 'Kathy O'Sullivan' followed by a horizontal line.

Kathy O' Sullivan

Lecturer in Mathematics Education,

School of Education,

National University of Ireland, Galway.