

Múinteoireacht sa Bhéarla != Gaelscolaíocht

From: Keane, Elaine elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie
Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in
Date: 21 May 2020 at 15:50
To: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN C.MACLIATHAIN2@nuigalway.ie

EK

Hi Cian,

I am absolutely delighted for you, but not surprised, as I knew you could do it! I was also very impressed by the quality of your assignments, and think you have done really, really well.

It sounds like you will enjoy having nothing hanging over you for the summer – so, enjoy it as much as you can in the current context!

And we look forward to having you back for your last year next year 😊

Take care,

Elaine

Dr. Elaine Keane

Lecturer in Sociology of Education & Director of Doctoral Studies

School of Education

College of Arts, Social Sciences & Celtic Studies

National University of Ireland, Galway

Email: Elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie Tel.: +35391493032

<http://www.nuigalway.ie/our-research/people/elainekeane/>

Recent publications:

- Keane, E., Heinz, M. and Lynch, A. (2018) 'Working-class' student teachers: Not being encouraged at school and impact on motivation to become a teacher, Education Research and Perspectives, 45, 71-97
- Doyle, G. and Keane, E. (2018) 'Education comes second to surviving': Parental Perspectives on their Child/ren's Early School Leaving in an Area Challenged by Marginalisation, Irish Educational Studies, DOI: 10.1080/03323315.2018.1512888
- Keane, E., Heinz, M., and Eaton, P. (2017) Fit(ness) to Teach?: Disability and Initial Teacher Education in the Republic of Ireland', International Journal of Inclusive Education, DOI: 10.1080/13603116.2017.1412510

Current Research:

Principal Investigator (with Dr. Manuela Heinz) on the Access to Post-primary Teaching (APT) Project, funded by the Higher Education Authority (HEA), under the Programme for Access to Higher Education (PATH) (Strand 1: Equity of Access to Initial Teacher Education)

From: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN <C.MACLIATHAIN2@nuigalway.ie>

Sent: Thursday 21 May 2020 14:39

To: Keane, Elaine <elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie>

Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Dr Keane,

I just wanted to send you this quick reply even if it's 2 weeks after your email.

Just in the last hour I've finally submitted the last assignment needed for my Research Literacies modules and now have everything submitted for the year. This is the first time in 5 years that I don't have some seemingly 'impossible' academic commitment hanging over my head. I will be waiting for the other shoe to drop for a while I think!

As I started reflecting on these past few months, this email is the first thing that came to mind as I just wanted to email you a thank you for it, it's definitely had a positive to mind so I just wanted to email you a thank you for it, it's definitely had a positive effect on me these past few weeks.

Mise le meas,
Cian

Sent from Mail for Windows 10

From: Keane, Elaine
Sent: 06 May 2020 17:27
To: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN
Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Hi Cian,
It's not too late and well done to you on getting all parts of the module assessment in! You are brilliant altogether – you should be hugely proud of yourself.
Mind yourself in the coming weeks and months and please stay in touch – let me or any of us on the staff know if you need anything,
Take care,
Elaine

Dr. Elaine Keane
Lecturer in Sociology of Education & Director of Doctoral Studies
School of Education
College of Arts, Social Sciences & Celtic Studies
National University of Ireland, Galway
Email: Elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie Tel.: +35391493032
<http://www.nuigalway.ie/our-research/people/elainekeane/>

Recent publications:

- Keane, E., Heinz, M. and Lynch, A. (2018) 'Working-class' student teachers: Not being encouraged at school and impact on motivation to become a teacher, Education Research and Perspectives, 45, 71-97
- Doyle, G. and Keane, E. (2018) 'Education comes second to surviving': Parental Perspectives on their Child/ren's Early School Leaving in an Area Challenged by Marginalisation, Irish Educational Studies, DOI: 10.1080/03323315.2018.1512888
- Keane, E., Heinz, M., and Eaton, P. (2017) Fit(ness) to Teach?: Disability and Initial Teacher Education in the Republic of Ireland', International Journal of Inclusive Education, DOI: 10.1080/13603116.2017.1412510

Current Research:

Principal Investigator (with Dr. Manuela Heinz) on the Access to Post-primary Teaching (APT) Project, funded by the Higher Education Authority (HEA), under the Programme for Access to Higher Education (PATH) (Strand 1: Equity of Access to Initial Teacher Education)

From: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN <C.MACLIATHAIN2@nuigalway.ie>
Sent: Wednesday 6 May 2020 15:02
To: Keane, Elaine <elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie>
Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Dr. Keane,

I'm emailing you just to let you know that I have submitted an attempt at Assignment 1 on Blackboard.

I'm very sorry for the delay, I've been trying my best and am just glad that something is submitted. I completely understand if it is too late to be accepted at this stage.

Thanks for your time and support throughout the year,
Cian

Sent from Mail for Windows 10

From: Keane, Elaine
Sent: 14 April 2020 18:29
To: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN
Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Well done, Cian, that is great! Onwards and upwards!
Best wishes,
Elaine

Dr. Elaine Keane
Lecturer in Sociology of Education & Director of Doctoral Studies
School of Education
College of Arts, Social Sciences & Celtic Studies
National University of Ireland, Galway
Email: Elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie Tel.: +35391493032
<http://www.nuigalway.ie/our-research/people/elainekeane/>

Recent publications:

- Keane, E., Heinz, M. and Lynch, A. (2018) 'Working-class' student teachers: Not being encouraged at school and impact on motivation to become a teacher, Education Research and Perspectives, 45, 71-97
- Doyle, G. and Keane, E. (2018) 'Education comes second to surviving': Parental Perspectives on their Child/ren's Early School Leaving in an Area Challenged by Marginalisation, Irish Educational Studies, DOI: 10.1080/03323315.2018.1512888
- Keane, E., Heinz, M., and Eaton, P. (2017) Fit(ness) to Teach?: Disability and Initial Teacher Education in the Republic of Ireland', International Journal of Inclusive Education, DOI: 10.1080/13603116.2017.1412510

Current Research:

Principal Investigator (with Dr. Manuela Heinz) on the Access to Post-primary Teaching (APT) Project, funded by the Higher Education Authority (HEA), under the Programme for Access to Higher Education (PATH) (Strand 1: Equity of Access to Initial Teacher Education)

From: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN <C.MACLIATHAIN2@nuigalway.ie>
Sent: Tuesday 14 April 2020 17:45
To: Keane, Elaine <elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie>
Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Thanks for your kind words, I've submitted in on Blackboard now.

I should be fine in completing the other assignment myself I understand it and have

I should be fine in completing the other assignment myself, I understand it and have an Inclusive Lesson carried out I just need to write it up.

I'm just trying to complete some other assignments, and am finding it hard not to get overwhelmed and frozen in general. It can feel like there are years of bad memories and failure to sift through just to get to the present. But when I can actually get into the process of writing, it's enjoyable.

I'm very relieved that I managed to get something finished for Assignment 2, I can try and view that as recent evidence of progress and recovery. Hopefully it wasn't a fluke!

Thanks for your time,
Cian

Sent from Mail for Windows 10

From: Keane, Elaine

Sent: 14 April 2020 09:14

To: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN

Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Hi Cian,

Huge well done to you on completing assignment 2! Don't worry about the word count in the circumstances; I will be looking forward to reading it. So, just submit, and don't worry. Well done to you 😊

I hope that you are keeping well, and let me know if you need any help with the other assignment – more than happy to have a Zoom chat, or email if you have any questions,

Best wishes,
Elaine

Dr. Elaine Keane

Lecturer in Sociology of Education & Director of Doctoral Studies

School of Education

College of Arts, Social Sciences & Celtic Studies

National University of Ireland, Galway

Email: Elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie Tel.: +35391493032

<http://www.nuigalway.ie/our-research/people/elainekeane/>

Recent publications:

- Keane, E., Heinz, M. and Lynch, A. (2018) 'Working-class' student teachers: Not being encouraged at school and impact on motivation to become a teacher, Education Research and Perspectives, 45, 71-97
- Doyle, G. and Keane, E. (2018) 'Education comes second to surviving': Parental Perspectives on their Child/ren's Early School Leaving in an Area Challenged by Marginalisation, Irish Educational Studies, DOI: 10.1080/03323315.2018.1512888
- Keane, E., Heinz, M., and Eaton, P. (2017) Fit(ness) to Teach?: Disability and Initial Teacher Education in the Republic of Ireland', International Journal of Inclusive Education, DOI: 10.1080/13603116.2017.1412510

Current Research:

Principal Investigator (with Dr. Manuela Heinz) on the Access to Post-primary Teaching (APT) Project, funded by the Higher Education Authority (HEA), under the Programme for Access to Higher Education (PATH) (Strand 1: Equity of Access to Initial Teacher Education)

From: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN <C.MACLIATHAIN2@nuigalway.ie>
Sent: Sunday 12 April 2020 20:24
To: Keane, Elaine <elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie>
Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Dr. Keane,

I'm very sorry for the delay in messaging you again. I'm fully aware that it is getting close to the end of the year and I really hope to also get Assignment 1 to you if it's not too late yet.

I know I probably come across as very unprepared/unmotivated and that hasn't been my intention at all. I've tried my best in the past while to complete Assignment 2, and now that I've finished it I wanted to ask you something about it before I submit it on Blackboard.

Outside of my Bibliography it is still far too long at 4300 words. I've tried my best to cut it down but at this stage after cutting things out of it I'm starting to second-guess whether I've done any of it right at all. Is it possible to submit one so long over the 2500-3000? I would assume there'd obviously be some deduction in marks and that wouldn't be a problem at all, I'm more worried it won't be accepted as maybe it's too long to fit the brief.

Thanks for your support throughout the year,
Cian

From: Keane, Elaine
Sent: 24 March 2020 12:48
To: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN
Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Hi Cian,

Many thanks for this update and I hope you are keeping well in these unsettling times. That's great that the inclusive lesson went so well, well done to you.

It sounds like you are making lots of progress, so be proud of yourself for that, and keep going.

I am not at all surprised that you have received very good feedback for the work you have submitted – it is clear that you are a hard worker, a clear thinker and that you are committed – so in that context, I am not at all surprised. Your only issue is confidence in yourself! Hopefully the positive feedback will assist you in continuing your efforts. Keep going with the inclusive teaching assignment, and the upcoming one, and just get in touch at any time if you have any questions or if I can help you with anything. We can organise an online meeting also if you like.

Keep in touch!

Best wishes,
Elaine

Dr. Elaine Keane

Lecturer in Sociology of Education & Director of Postgraduate Studies

Lecturer in Sociology of Education & Director of Doctoral Studies
School of Education
College of Arts, Social Sciences & Celtic Studies
National University of Ireland, Galway
Email: Elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie Tel.: +35391493032
<http://www.nuigalway.ie/our-research/people/elainekeane/>

Recent publications:

- Keane, E., Heinz, M. and Lynch, A. (2018) 'Working-class' student teachers: Not being encouraged at school and impact on motivation to become a teacher, Education Research and Perspectives, 45, 71-97
- Doyle, G. and Keane, E. (2018) 'Education comes second to surviving': Parental Perspectives on their Child/ren's Early School Leaving in an Area Challenged by Marginalisation, Irish Educational Studies, DOI: 10.1080/03323315.2018.1512888
- Keane, E., Heinz, M., and Eaton, P. (2017) Fit(ness) to Teach?: Disability and Initial Teacher Education in the Republic of Ireland', International Journal of Inclusive Education, DOI: 10.1080/13603116.2017.1412510

Current Research:

Principal Investigator (with Dr. Manuela Heinz) on the Access to Post-primary Teaching (APT) Project, funded by the Higher Education Authority (HEA), under the Programme for Access to Higher Education (PATH) (Strand 1: Equity of Access to Initial Teacher Education)

From: MAC LIATHAIN, CIAN <C.MACLIATHAIN2@nuigalway.ie>

Sent: Tuesday 24 March 2020 11:33

To: Keane, Elaine <elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie>

Subject: RE: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Dr Keane,

I just wanted to email you a kind of update since the last time we spoke, to avoid burying my head in the sand.

I'm sorry that I still haven't sent you the Inclusive Teaching Lesson Plan, however I did design a lesson and put it into practice before schools closed. Luckily I had my teaching inspection the Wednesday before schools/colleges closed and I used the Inclusive Teaching strategies for the inspection, and my feedback for it was really good.

In the meantime I've also submitted some lesson plans, an Opening Statement (1500 words) for my Practical Teaching Module and a Research Project Proposal (1500 words) for my Research Literacies Module and have surprisingly gotten good feedback for those.

I know that these assignments / inspection aren't directly related to your module but my struggle with submitting the Inclusive Lesson Plan and this upcoming assignment very much stems from a wider crippling academic anxiety and inner critic that developed a few years ago. The above things that I've finally completely in the last few weeks are more than I was able to do in the previous few years, and seeing that concrete progress has helped my mental health and self-efficacy a lot.

I very much hope that I will be able to submit the upcoming assignment in time and get the Inclusive Lesson Plan to you shortly after.

Sorry for the intermittent communication,
Cian
Sent from Mail for Windows 10

From: ELAINE KEANE - elaine.keane@nuigalway.ie <nuigalway-instructor@blackboard.com>

Sent: Friday, March 20, 2020 12:01:14 PM

Subject: 1920-ED305 Psychology, Sociology & Catering for Diversity: Checking in

Hello everyone,

I hope you and your loved ones are keeping well in these unsettling and worrying times.

Just checking in with you about your assignment due March 27th. I hope you are all doing okay with it but let us know if you have any questions or need any support,

Take care,

Elaine